Air Force Combat Controllers (CCTs) are some of the most highly trained, special operations forces in the world. Trained as elite air traffic controllers, their unique skill sets make them the deadliest warriors on the planet.

There are approximately 500 active Combat Controllers in the Air Force, making them much smaller than their better known counterparts. Their training consistently washes out more than 80% of the men seeking to wear the scarlet beret.

Some of the military's most difficult missions have been and continue to be executed by Combat Controllers who operate in remote or hostile environments.

By becoming a Force Multiplier of the Combat Control Foundation, it enables us to be FIRST THERE for those who are the Air Force's Special Warfare Elite Operators.
